

The Murdered Girl

Murdered girl, curled, in frost
 Naked to the rumpled air
 Moonlight slips through expiring leaves
 Finding strings of shadow
 Never have you lain alone
 In your grove of Shot Bush

Speckled Adler

Shadows plunge in excitation
 To the primal gut, racketing
 Leaves from Trees of Heaven.
 Never has there been
 Human hurt not shared
 By raving man

In communal blood

Worms oscillate, descend
 Within the shadows' curse
 To drill time's crust.
 Church bells chime their Random notes. Dimensions
 Unearth and Black Elders, shaken
 Drop flowered

Rain

Light bends around your weight
 And all things declare their eternal fall
 Through shelves of space
 ...to where you are
 Forever and ever
 We are all murdered: all
